26 public demonstrations against the government. I told him my friends, and I had met to eat lunch.

27 Then, the officer returned me to my cell.

29 On September 13, my three friends were released on bail. I was taken to an investigator at 30 the station on the same day. The officer repeated the allegation that I was involved in organizing 31 a public demonstration opposing the government. I denied the claim. The officer became 32 aggressive and started beating me. He ordered me to lie on the ground, facing my face on the 33 floor. Then beat me three times on my lower back. He threatened to break my hands if I did not 34 tell him the truth. I was in pain. Then, the officer returned me to my cell. I was released on 35 September 19, 2023, by giving an 80,000 Birr ~~bribe~~ bail payment. I was also ordered to sign a statement that I
36 would not participate in any activities opposing the federal or regional governments.

38 Five days after my release, on Sunday, September 24, 2023, my friend who works in the 39 city Administration office told me that he saw in the office that my name was on the list of 40 people to be detained by government security forces. I was afraid that if they detained me again,
41 they would torture and even kill me. I thought that I had no safe place in my country to hide. I
42 had to flee my country and ask for refugee status in Canada. I applied for a visa in October 2023.
43 I got the visa on June 5, 2024, and arrived in Toronto on August 12, 2024.

45 From October 1, 2023, to August 11, 2024, until I left Ethiopia for Canada, I lived in 46 Addis Ababa in Lemi Kura Sub City, hiding from the officials in the Gondar. Addis Ababa was
